Debating game- rules

The objective is to convince the jury of the position of the group.

The jury decides which group has won and this decision will not be discussed further.

If the jury does not understand or is unable to hear what the group says, that's the groups sole responsibility.

There is no flexibility in assigned time. It's the group's responsibility to start in time.

The decision by the jury is based on the consistency and coherence of the arguments, as well as the capacity of the group to refute the arguments of the opposing group.

The statement will not be explained by the facilitator, this is the job of the groups.

The focus on treatment first, is an obstacle in achieving safe sanitation for the urban poor.
