

Anna Rosling Rönnlund

Born and raised in Sweden, Anna is a visionary whose main goal in life is finding systematic sense in vast amounts of data. As tons of data on individual countries' health and economics status is collected yearly, Anna's focus is making this global public data easier to understand, and use. She co-founded Gapminder, an organisation with a mission to "fight devastating ignorance with a fact-based worldview everyone can understand". Gapminder's software Trendalyzer was sold over to Google, where Anna later worked to apply her expertise as a User Experience Designer. Anna is now back at Gapminder, making data easily interpretable. She holds a Master's Degree in Social Sciences with major in Sociology and a Bachelor's Degree in Photography.