

Transforming knowledge production and innovation for sustainable water development

#transformingknowledge

Transforming knowledge production and innovation for sustainable water development

Welcome by Göran Finnveden, Vice President KTH

Transforming knowledge:

16:00	Welcome and Introduction	Göran Finnveden, KTH
16:10	From preaching to participation: enabling joint learning and stakeholder dialogue	Louise Karlberg, SEI
	Using local knowledge for meeting global challenges: examples from Ethiopia and Bangladesh.	Prosun Bhattacharya & Gunaratna Kuttuva Rajarao, KTH
16:30	Provocation Panel	James Clarke, IWMI Annamaria Oltorp, Sida Hrachya Sargsyan, UNICEF Östen Ekengren, IVL
17:10	How can researchers make a bigger impact: a policy perspective.	Ingrid Petersson, FORMAS
17:25	Final Remarks and Summing Up	Jakob Granit, SEI
Moderator: David Nilsson

Transforming knowledge: Tricky Questions

- 1. How can we know that new knowledge makes a difference?
- 2. Why is it so hard to capture and use lessons from field work?
- 3. What should water researchers in North and South do less?
- 4. What must universities do to improve collaboration with private sector?

Transforming knowledge:

How can researchers make a bigger impact: a policy perspective

Ingrid Petersson, Director General FORMAS

Transforming knowledge:

Final remarks and summing up

Jakob Granit, Director, SEI Stockholm

Transforming knowledge production and innovation for sustainable water development

#transformingknowledge